

course

Intersectional Approach Research on Diversity and Migration Narratives

FORTHEM Diversity and Migrations Lab

Virtual training

from 15 to 19 May 2023

Live training

from 5 to 9 June 2023

VNIVERSITAT
ID VALÈNCIA

Vicerectorat d'Internacionalització
i Multilingüisme

With the support of the Erasmus+ Programme
of the European Union

forthem.

Fostering Outreach
within European Regions,
Transnational Higher Education
and Mobility

VNIVERSITAT ID VALÈNCIA

Practical Details

Dates: 5 - 9 June 2023

Format: Blended

Total workload: 90 hours

ECTS: 3*

Language: English (B2)

* Recognition of ECTS depends on your home university.

Location: València, Spain

Open to:

15-20 Ph. D. incoming students from any Erasmus+ institution and to FORTHEM universities

Field of Studies:

Social Sciences and Humanities (Education, Literature, Linguistics, Pedagogy, Psychology, Human Geography, Sociology, Anthropology, Philosophy, Human Rights and Law)

General Information

The Intersectional Approach Research on Diversity and Migration Narratives program (3 ECTS, 90 hours) is strongly supported by the FORTHEM Diversity and Migrations Lab. The involvement, knowledge and expertise of the colleagues from the partner universities is essential for this event to take place.

This program is a “blended” course and includes one or more parts that are performed online and one part which is performed in person at the host university (Universitat de València, Spain). It is a programme carried out mainly in English language with some optional events in other European languages.

Throughout this training period Ph. D. students will first learn about the theoretical concept of Intersectionality, Hybridism and Boundaries and its direct applications to Diversity and Migrant Narratives from different fields and methodologies.

The Intersectional Approach Research on Diversity and Migration Narratives course is open to 15-20 Ph. D. incoming students from any Erasmus+ institution and to FORTHEM universities enrolled in the areas of knowledge of Social Sciences and Humanities: Education, Literature, Linguistics, Pedagogy, Psychology, Human Geography, Sociology, Anthropology, Philosophy, Human Rights and Law as we are seeking for the promotion of an intersectional approach from all of these areas of knowledge.

The Intersectional Approach Research on Diversity and Migration Narratives course consists of a hybridization between virtual training (May, 2023) prior to classroom training in the city of Valencia (June, 2023).

Students' Selection:

Interested participants please contact your International Relations Office at your home institution for further information regarding your application and funding.

Calendar

Virtual Training	Schedule	Live Training	Schedule
#1: 15/05/2023	10:00-13:00	#1: 05/06/2023	09:30-17:30
#2: 16/05/2023	10:00-13:00	#2: 06/06/2023	09:30-17:30
#3: 17/05/2023	10:00-13:00	#3: 07/06/2023	09:30-17:30
#4: 18/05/2023	10:00-13:00	#4: 08/06/2023	09:30-17:30
#5: 19/05/2023	10:00-13:00	#5: 09/06/2023	09:30-17:30
Total number of hours:	15 hours		40 hours

Besides the 55 training hours, Ph. D. students are expected to do group and autonomous activities that will add up to 35 hours, being a program that is worth 3 ECTS, 90 hours in total.

Virtual training content

The virtual part will take place from 15 to 19 May 2023.

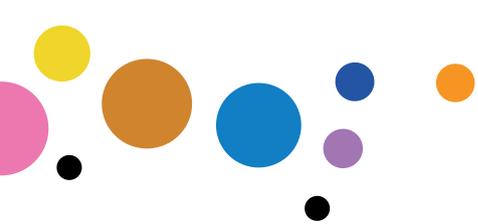

Monday 15 May - 10:00-13:00 CET - From equality to diversity

Tuesday 16 May - 10:00-13:00 CET - Gender and affective-sexual diversity

Wednesday 17 May - 10:00-13:00 CET - Ethnic-cultural diversity

Thursday 18 May - 10:00-13:00 CET - Interfaith diversity

Friday 19 May - 10:00-13:00 CET - Functional and care diversity

Live training content

The physical part will take place from 5 to 9 June 2023.

 Place: Facultat de Filologia, Traducció i Comunicació.
Universitat de València, València, Spain.

Monday 5 June - 09:30-17:30 CET - Discourse analysis in intersectional narratives

Tuesday 6 June - 09:30-17:30 CET - Research and innovative methodologies applied to Diversity and Migration

Wednesday 7 June - 09:30-17:30 CET - Scientific article writing applied to Diversity and Migration topics

Thursday 8 June - 09:30-17:30 CET - Sharing Ph. D. research results

Friday 9 June - 09:30-17:30 CET - Knowledge transference into plural societies

Plus, after these five sessions, Ph. D. students will have to develop their research ideas in small groups, in order to develop a very specific research proposal that they will share through a formal presentation in a pilot congress entitled: “FORTHEM Diversity & Migration 1st Research Conference”.

Evaluation

The assessment will be based on the following criteria:

- Virtual training
- Active participation, individual homework, final group research portfolio UV training
- Student individual presentation of their Ph. D. research and discussion together with the participant lecturers and former students
- Students' group conference communication at the “FORTHEM Diversity & Migration 1st Research Conference” (June 9th, 2023)

